

Lindsey Wilson Players to Host Another Bake Sale

Members of the Lindsey Wilson Players man the bake sale table at Columbia Walmart on Sunday, Sept. 9. From left, Callie Botkin, Susan Herrington, Mariah Lane, Sarah Wood, Jacob Scott, and Thomas Alvey.

COLUMBIA, Ky. -- Members of Lindsey Wilson College's theatre club, the Lindsey Wilson Players, will host the second of two bake sales this month at the Columbia Walmart on Sunday, Sept. 27.

The baked goods - which will include cookies, Rice Krispies treats, brownies, and more - will be on sale from 12-3 p.m. CT. Donations will also be accepted.

All proceeds from the bake sale will go towards funding the Players attending the Midwest Auditions in St. Louis, Mo., and going to see the Broadway musical Once in Lexington, Ky. The Midwest Auditions are an opportunity for Players members to get professional theatre jobs over the summer. Past club members who were hired from similar auditions include Jeremy Cloyd, Erika Finley, and Timothy Hoffman.

At the first bake sale, the Players made over $100 to put towards these trips.

The Lindsey Wilson Players will have a bake sale at the Columbia Walmart off Highway 80 on Sept. 27 from 12-3 p.m. CT.