

Malvina Farkle Day Laugh, work, and play

(Above) Lana Glasgow (left) provides instructions for setting up a book fair at Adair County Elementary School to Jared Hunter (middle) and Caitlayn Carman.

Malvina Farkle Day 2015 included students from Lindsey Wilson College going into the local Columbia/Adair County community to perform community service projects. Some of the places that students served at included Adair County High School (above), where the Lindsey Wilson College Players taught high school students about theatre. (Left) Students work on a fence at Columbia United Methodist Church. (Top of page) Savannah Simpson (left) and Jessica Dennis-Bay (right) slide down a tarp behind Keeffe Hall after a day of volunteering.

(Above) Caleb Keeton assists a student at Adair County Elementary School. (Left) Aymee Sheek takes time to make a new friend at Green River Animal Shelter.